

To Whom it May Concern:

June 6, 2009

My name is Susan Gould and have been in the Television Advertising business for twenty-five years in New York. I have been working at MTV Networks for the past eighteen years, and have had the privilege to know Reed Clare for the past seven years.

Reed is a man of excellent character who is intelligent, warm, honest, humorous, and talented. I have witnessed his growth as a person and artist, and seen him immerse himself in the acting and filmmaking profession, developing into a fine collaborative artist. Reed has performed in numerous Shakespearean productions Off-Broadway, and played a very convincing murderer in the Metropolitan Opera's production of Macbeth. He has executive produced, wrote and acted in his film "Kingdomcome", which is an excellent film that he co-created.

I am happy to recommend Reed for projects and I wish him all the best in his acting and filmmaking career, and believe he will continue elevating himself and his acting career to greater heights. He is a friend and a true professional.
